FIRE INSPECTION DAY IN CIRCLEVILLE

DEPARTMENT IS INADEQUATE LADDER TRUCK OUT OF DATE

Twenty Men Make Tour and Report Findings at Chamber of Commerce Meeting—Valuable Suggestions Made Which if Followed Will Result in Much Good.

Fire inspection day has come and gone and twenty inspectors in charge of Ben P. Tinsley, chairman of the executive committee connected with The Ohio State Fire Prevention association with headquarters at Columbus, canvassed and inspected the city.

The report of inspection was read at a public meeting of the chamber of commerce held at the community house of the U. B. church, where a banquet was given the visiting inspectors. Besides the members of the chamber of commerce, members of the Women's Business & Professional club and business men were present.

The report showed that 162 business houses were inspected, 49 of these were without defects and 113 with defects and 384 criticisms were given on the 113.

Among some of the buildings visited were the movie picture show houses, churches, school houses, city building and fire department.

The report in general which was exhaustive, was a gloomy picture of this city's fire risk. The churches, without naming any one in particular were criticized, likewise the school buildings. The fire drills are very poor and the method of giving fire signals at the high school and Corwin street buildings is antiquated. You would not want your child's life jeopardized by fire if you knew a way to prevent it. It is just those careless things said George D. Kessberger, one of the inspectors, that causes consternation when fire appears suddenly. Don't think you are secure because your children are in a new building. The 129 children and four teachers piled in a death heap at the bottom of a stairway in the Collinwood school, a suburb of Cleveland, a few years ago, were thought to be safe.

The burning of the school in Oklahoma at a Christmas celebration only a few short months ago is still fresh in our minds, with its resultant loss of human life. Take care of the tots.

A plea was made for better care of the old and helpless women at the Home and Hospital. The report showed that there are five women inmates on the second floor, three of whom are blind and one so badly crippled that she has to sit in a chair all day long. With only one attendant, what chance would these poor mortals have of escape from a fire? While the "Home" is not a firetrap to a person in good health, it is, to these helpless women who are too feeble to get out in time of danger.

The report showed how lame we are in fire protection. With a fine building, a good pumping engine and a booster pump engine the ladder truck is practically worthless. It is a horse drawn affair and in case of a big fire where are you going to get the horses to pull the truck. The longest ladder on this truck is 24 feet and to reach the third floor of any building will require a ladder from 45 to fifty feet long.

Two men are on duty at the fire department, three with the chief. The latter is given one day off each week. How can two men run out that big pumper and how could two men handle it at a fire? In every well regulated fire department, four men are on duty continuously. It is the cheapest thing in the world to have a well equipped fire department.

The business district of the city is so constructed, that if a fire broke out and gained headway, it would take ten times the present equipment to handle it.

Out of 238 homes inspected, 33 had rubbish lying around, 23 had gasoline in the home, seven stoves were found connected with rubber tubing, 105 had dustless mops standing in corners and closets unprotected. These mops are fire starters. If you must have them keep them in iron or tin boxes. One hundred homes had electric irons and these are all right if you don't forget and leave the current on, and lock the door when you leave home. The better way if you have one of these contrivances, is to burn a red lamp when using the current, this is a gentle reminder, and you won't go away and let it burn you out of house and home.

The speakers of the evening were introduced by Harry G. Stevenson, chairman of the fire prevention committee of the chamber of commerce. Among those who spoke were Ben P. Tinsley, George D. Kessberger, Joe Hershberger, R. L. Mauk and W. J. Gildsford.

The chamber of commerce hung up three prizes for the best essays on fire prevention and these were awarded as follows: First, $5, Catharine Steuer; second $3, Lucy Seall; third, $2, Hermia Laughlin.

WILMA S. LAVAN

Wilma Sinclair Lavan of Ohio, it has been announced, will make the race in Ohio on the Republican ticket for lieutenant governor. As far as is known she is the first woman to seek the second highest place in state politics in the country. He is also chairman of the Coolidge forces in Ohio.

IN AUTO WRECK.

Farker Wood and Evan Merriman, riding in a Dodge touring car on the Columbus pike Wednesday afternoon ran into a cement post on their way to Columbus. The accident happened when a car that came from a side road ran out in front of them and in order to avoid a collision they had to swerve to the side of the road and collided with the post. Mr. Wood escaped injury but Mr. Merriman was thrown thru the windshield and both sides of his neck were lacerated badly. His injuries were attended to in this city.

ELECTION SUPERVISORS MEET.

The Deputy State Board of Supervisors of Elections met Wednesday evening and organized by electing S. T. Rife chief deputy and H. E. Weill clerk for the ensuing year. The others members of the board are J. C. Haswell, H. W. Plum and Dr. G. S. Corne.

A PHI UPSILON OMICRON.

Miss Frances Mason, a student at the O. S. U., and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mason of this city, has been elected a member of the college fraternity, Phi Upsilon Omicron.

How "Rabbit" Maranville Broke Ankle in Practice

Walter "Rabbit" Maranville painfully hurt in the eighth inning of a practice game between the Chicago Cubs and Los Angeles at the Los Angeles ball park. When after a bunt Maranville is seen sliding into third base breaking his ankle, while Michaels of the Cubs is being tagged for the third out, Maranville's falling is unexplained. He came to the Cubs from Pittsburgh, only to be lost again, as the doctors say it will be some time before he can play again.

FOR MILITARY TRAINING BY GOVERNMENT

George Gerhardt and Herbert Hammel Recently Made Application.

Last year, the 1925 figure of 6,050 vacancies for the Citizens' Military Training camps bids fair to be over-subscribed by May 15, according to Major General Omar Bundy, commanding the fifth Corps area. Altho this is the largest number of any quota yet assigned to this area, returns indicate that it will be much too small to accommodate the steady flow of applications coming into headquarters.

Four years' experience gained in conducting young men's camps throughout the country has resulted in numerous improvements in war department plans, designed to make training and recreation programs more attractive to youths at the camps this year.

Specialists in various professions who hold commissions in the organized reserves will be called to duty to aid in non-military studies, under the war department's plan, troops of the regular army being occupied largely with drill and shooting instruction.

Individual attention to physical training of each student is the present aim of this year's program with special regard to the correction of unfavorable tendencies in the growing youth. With this end in view data compiled from records of camps of previous years is now being studied by the war department.

Following are the names of Pickaway county lads who have recently applied for admission to the Citizens' Military Training camps: George E. Gerhardt, 139 East Mill street, and Herbert L. Hammel, 318 Watt street, Circleville.

BROTHERHOOD.

There will be a meeting of the Methodist Brotherhood this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Degrees will be conferred on six candidates. Refreshments will be served by the third department.

FIVE BANDITS ROB PAWNSHOP TAKE $50,000

Chicago, May 7. (U.P.)—While thousands of pedestrians passed by, five bandits held up the Morris Fomash pawn shop in the heart of downtown Chicago today and stripped the large establishment of between $40,000 and $50,000 worth of jewels and valuables. They escaped in an automobile. The owner and clerks were tied up in a rear room, while the place was looted. The scene of the robbery was less than a block from the Harrison police station.

Thornhill, Sabina; state lecturer, N. C. Sherburne, Newark; national board member, G. P. Hunsicker, Williamsport; national secretary of the Clerks' association, J. M. Copeland, Wapakoneta and N. C. Sherburne, delegate to the national convention of the order at Milwaukee June 11.

Logan, May 7—Police have asked residents to leave their automobiles at home Saturday afternoons and evenings so that out-of-town visitors may find parking places.

DISCUSSED WIDENING OF THE ROADWAY

Mayor Collected $1364.10 in Fines and Licenses—Fire Equipment.

The city council met in regular session Wednesday evening, May 6, with President John C. Goeller, presiding and all members present.

Mr. Marion reported a meeting with the county commissioners in regard to widening the road between the Ohio Utilities plant and the River bridge, but nothing definite had been accomplished; thereupon Mr. Marion offered a motion which was seconded that the committee on department of public services together with the city solicitor investigate this matter and if possible ascertain who is the owner of this road and also the width of the same and the report to council. This motion carried.

Mayor Fitzpatrick reported fines, licenses and fees collected during the month of April in the sum of $1364.10 and on motion of Mr. Baker this report was received and placed on file.

A petition signed by Bertha K. Wood and J. M. Wood asking for the vacation of Hill alley in Ebert's Cedar Hill addition to the city, was read. On motion of Mr. Baker this was referred to the committee on department of public safety, together with the city solicitor.

Mr. Landerberger reported that one of the high tension poles in the Lancaster pike just off Main street is standing out into the street too far, which makes it dangerous for persons turning off of Main street and this was referred to the committee on department of public safety.

On motion of Mr. Shaner the matter of purchasing ladders and other necessary equipment for the fire department was referred to the committee on department of public safety, together with the director of public safety and mayor.

On motion of Mr. Wolt council adjourned until Friday evening, May 8, at 7:30 o'clock.

"LOVE PIRATES" A SUCCESS AT WASHINGTON

Rev. Moses Breeze to Give Class Address—Last Day Will be a Hummer.

The light opera, "Love Pirates of Hawaii," presented by the high school pupils had a large audience. The entertainment proved a success and Mr. Barton and Mr. S. M. Smith are to be complimented for the splendid way in which it was rendered. The audience was especially pleased with a vocal solo by Miss Alice Barton of Adelphi.

Everyone is invited to the closing day program at the Children's Home on Thursday afternoon, May 14, at 1:30 Central Standard time. The teachers, Miss Geneva Adams and Miss Edith Spangler are to remain in Washington township another year.

Three teachers will be missed when school begins next fall. Mrs. Barton will attend either Wittenberg or Athens university during the coming year. Miss Alice Grabill and Miss Mary Callahan have other positions in view. The teachers and patrons wish them success.

Dogs for Hides

There are said to be hundreds of dog-breeding establishments in northern China and Manchuria, where the dogs are killed by strangulation when seven months old and their skins, which have very heavy hair, are made into coats for the Chinese people. The flesh of these young dogs is eaten, both fresh and salted, by the orientals.

MAIN STREET--OUR OWN HOME TOWN

Interesting Meeting of Business and Professional Women's Club Held Last Night.

The Business and Professional Women's Club is indebted to Miss Helen Rowe, chairman of the program committee and her assistant, Mrs. H. B. Given, for one of the most interesting and entertaining meetings that this club has had the pleasure of attending. The program was of vital interest to all as it was on "Our Own Home Town."

The first number on the program was a reading by Miss Anna Florence on "What Nature Gives Us." Her talk covered the type of land, species of trees, species of birds, species of wild flowers that are to be found in Pickaway county and had a collection of wild flowers to exhibit that were really wonderful. The next number on the program was "With Our Forefathers," by Miss May Lowe and was more than interesting, giving the history of our city from its first settlement, telling by whom and under what conditions settled, its growth, etc. Miss Lowe loves this subject and has contributed some very interesting data to outside sources on this subject and her regret was that she could not talk all evening about the same thing. It was also the wish of some members of the club as the subject of forefathers is particularly interesting.

Mrs. Ella Lindsey's subject was "The Figure We Cut." She gave some very interesting data including statistics, population, number of schools, churches, public buildings, parks, vital statistics, birth rate, death rate, volume of business done by local manufacturers, stores, banks, etc. The paper was a real work to compile and Mrs. Lindsey delivered it in a very entertaining manner.

Miss Mary Ebert was asked to talk on "Local Men and Women Who Have Put Us on the Map," but could not be there because of ill health.

The next most interesting paper was by Miss Charlotte McEwing and told "Our Place as a Club in the Community." This subject is particularly dear to her and the paper really was most enjoyable as it was written in Miss McEwing's own inimitable way.

Miss Mary Wilder then spoke on "Ten Years Hence" and remarked that the persons to whom she had spoken about this subject had all replied that "You will never be able to do anything for Circleville and that in ten years it would be in the same condition it is now." These utterances, however, had not come from any member of the Business and Professional Women's Club and she proceeded to give a very interesting talk on what would be possible in ten years in the way of plans for new enterprises, the enlargement of capacities and some very interesting dreams.

The club as a whole is looking forward to the next meeting and hoping the program committee will not run out of material as this meeting has made them all wish for more.

The plans for the card party which is to be held at 7 o'clock on the evening of May 14th at the Parish House, were then discussed.

Lesson for May 10

PHILIP AND THE ETHIOPIAN TREASURER

LESSON TEXT—Acts 8:26-39.
GOLDEN TEXT—"The entrance of Thy words giveth light."—Ps. 119:130.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Man Did What God Told Him.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Philip and the Ethiopian Treasurer.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Philip Won the Ethiopian.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Use of the Bible in Evangelism.

I. Philip Meeting the Ethiopian (vv. 26-30a).
1. Leaving Work by Divine Direction (v. 26).

The Lord called Philip away from a great work in Samaria and specifically directed him to this man. Abrahamlike, he obeyed the divine command not knowing why he should leave the work in Samaria and go into a desert place. As he journeyed on by faith he espied the state chariot of the Ethiopian treasurer. The Spirit of God directed him to go near and join himself to the chariot. The tactful question put to the treasurer gained him a seat by the side of this dignified officer. The mission which at first seemed so unpromising was now clear.

2. An Officer of State Seeking the Way of Salvation (vv. 27-28).

The Ethiopian had been to Jerusalem to worship. Despite his high official position he was not ashamed of the worship of God. The journey from that far off country required much hardship and expense, but to the one whose soul yearns after God, this is all joy.

3. A Providential Meeting in the Desert (vv. 29-30).

The coming together of these two men was clearly the predetermined way of God.

II. Philip Preaching to the Ethiopian (vv. 30b-35).

1. The Ethiopian's Employment on the Way (v. 30).

His occupation at the time of the meeting was reading the Word of God. At the invitation of the Ethiopian Philip joined himself to the chariot and found him reading from the 53d chapter of Isaiah. This is a most excellent way to spend one's time while traveling.

2. The Absolute Need of a Preacher (v. 31).

The Ethiopian was reading one of the clearest testimonies to the Messiah in the Old Testament, yet he was unable to get anything out of it. The fact that the Ethiopian, a great statesman, needed an interpreter of the Scriptures, even such a plain passage as the 53d chapter of Isaiah, shows the absolute need of a preacher. The gospel must be experienced before one can be a witness to its saving power. The human mind is blind to spiritual things, making the work of an evangelist indispensable. If a statesman of this rank was unable to grasp the meaning of such a clear passage, it should not be thought strange that for the rank and file of men a guide is needed. God has designed that through the foolishness of preaching the world should be saved. Preaching the Word of God will always be necessary.

3. Philip's Message (vv. 32-35).
He began at the Scriptures which the Ethiopian was reading and preached unto him Jesus. This shows us that the person represented in the 53d chapter of Isaiah as suffering instead of others was Jesus instead of Israel, also that the central theme of the preacher's message should be Jesus. He did not preach Jesus as a great teacher, but as a Savior who had suffered and died instead of sinners. He preached Him as the one who had offered Himself as a ransom.

III. Philip Baptized the Ethiopian (vv. 36-38).
As a result of Philip's preaching the eunuch proposed baptism. When Christ is truly preached, men naturally desire to confess Him in baptism. Where this feeling is lacking, the gospel in its fullness is evidently not preached. The Ethiopian might have offered many excuses for neglecting this important ordinance, but like every man who is honest before God he was willing at any cost to render obedience. The proof that men really believe in Jesus is their willingness to render obedience to His Word. It is faith in Christ that saves, but those who have genuine faith desire to seal it in baptism. Having secured from the Ethiopian the proper confession Philip baptized him.

IV. The Ethiopian Rejoicing (v. 39).
Confession of Christ always brings joy. Those who obey the commandment of the Lord can go on their way rejoicing.

The time is passed when the measure of the value of a memorial is quantity. I hope the time has come when that measure is quality. I care not whether the material be marble or granite, its future will be measured by the character of the design. It is quality that has preserved for us the finest examples in painting and sculpture. It is quality that will stamp our imprint upon cemeteries of the future. Simplicity, correct lines and proportions and proper ornamentation are the real fundamentals. A design that is right, material that is lasting, and perfect workmanship, spells success for the future of this industry and the beautification of the cemetery. Girl's Strange Mentality

Scientists are trying to find out what actuates a girl named Thea Alba. Until lately she had shown nothing specially strange about her actions, except the habit of writing with her left hand as well as her right. One day, however, she told her folks that she was continually thinking of two or three things at the same time, and very soon she began to do things that seemed to prove it. She wrote at first, two different words at the same time, one with each hand. Being a good drawer and a pianist, she trained herself so that she can paint and draw with both hands at once. She can play the piano with one hand, and at the same time write or draw with the other. At an examination before doctors she drew a portrait with each hand in twenty seconds. She can also write with three pieces of chalk at the same time. Just how or why—nobody yet knows.—Family Herald.

PROCLAMATION

Mayor Fitzpatrick Asks for Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign in City.

Come on, let's put things in order. Our whole city can and should be made as clean and orderly as its cleanest home. Then we will have a safer, happier, healthier city.

Ambition in its highest conception is to dream big dreams and make them come true. The splendid ambition to have a city clean and beautiful is soon to become a reality by the cooperation of all the people.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as mayor, and with the hearty approval of many far-seeing and zealous citizens, we hereby proclaim the week of May 4 to 9 1925 as the opening week of a continuous Clean Up and Paint Up campaign.

Away with the rubbish piles! Banish the plague spots! Clean up streets and alleys! Cut the weeds, mow the lawn and trim the hedges! Repair and paint every building that needs it.

We need this thorough cleaning and renovation. It is the sensible thing to do—for the health, safety, thrift, pride and happiness of all our people.

It is everybody's job. Every man, woman and child will be expected to help. Let there be no slackers.

GEO. M. FITZPATRICK,
Mayor.

WEEKLY LETTER

From the State of Ohio Department of Agriculture.

With an average yield in this state of 150,000,000 bushels a year, corn is one of the fundamental crops of Ohio and its successful production is of vital importance to all classes of people from a food value standpoint. The past year was very unfavorable for the maturing of corn with the result that a large portion of the crop will fail to germinate. Many farmers will therefore find it necessary to fall back on the 1923 crop for seed. In view of this situation, it is important that seed corn be tested for germination before planting this spring. The germination test is a simple one and familiar to most Ohio farmers. However, complete directions for applying the test can be secured from County Agents, the U. S. Department of Agriculture or the Ohio Department of Agriculture.

Persons ailing in health are not inclined to scrutinize too closely remedies that are offered for sale on the open market. Particularly is this true in the case of mineral waters, the average layman being no judge of whether or not the curative values are as represented. Claims by the bottler or manufacturer of miraculous healing powers are too often accepted at face value by the purchaser. To prevent fraud in the sale of mineral waters and to remove spurious products from the channels of commerce is one of the duties of the Division of Foods and Dairies of the Ohio Department of Agriculture.

An accurate check is to be kept by the Ohio Department of Agriculture this season on all farms located in the area most seriously infested by the European corn borer. According to Director of Agriculture, Chas. V. Truax, there are 120 townships that come under recent regulations issued by the Agricultural Department regarding the destruction of corn refuse. These townships are included in the quarantined area and were found infested during the first three years that a survey of this insect pest was made in Ohio.

With the advent of May, local inspectors have been appointed in each of these townships to report the observance or non-observance of Departmental regulations on the part of farmers. These reports are to be made either to the Federal District supervisors or to deputies of the Ohio Department of Agriculture. It is extremely important that State regulations be closely followed by farm owners in the infested districts and these inspectors will greatly assist in enforcing the rules. Corn refuse must be destroyed before June 1.

News of several outbreaks of rabies have reached the Ohio Department of Agriculture recently. These outbreaks have occurred in the larger cities. In such instances, the greatest danger is to human life and these cases are up to the local health boards. However, rabies is a serious menace to the livestock industry. Every stockman in the state knows the peril that his animals are placed in should they be bitten by a suspected dog or other animal. Animals should be isolated and the heads of dogs suspected of having rabies should be carefully packed and sent to the laboratory of the Agriculture Department at Reynoldsburg, O. After a careful investigation, officials in charge of this work will be able to make whatever recommendations are necessary.

Miss Robbins, of this year's normal class, has been hired to teach the fifth and sixth grades next year. She is a graduate of Monroe high school and comes to us highly recommended.

Rev. G. J. Troutman will preach the baccalaureate sermon at the school house Sunday evening at 7:30 Central Standard time.

Final examinations will be given the first of next week.

The Rev. Moses Breeze will deliver the commencement address Friday evening at 8 o'clock Central Standard time, May 15.

Carl Drum, teacher at Chauncey during the last school term, is at home. He intends to teach some where near home next year.

The last day of school will be the biggest and best day of the year for the community. In the morning, Rev. Johnson will give the commencement address for sixteen eight grade pupils. After the graduation exercises each room will give a fifteen minute program. Among the various numbers will be a May pole dance, folk songs, and talks. Rev. George Weir will present a Bible to the room which had the best and neatest room during the year. The gift was presented by Mr. Boyer, who gives a gift each year. Two ball games will be played in the afternoon. Every one is invited to spend the day and evening with us and be sure to bring a full basket for the big basket dinner.

Country Medic Appears to Be Slowly Passing

The old-time country doctor, with his sorrel nag, his old brown bag, his cheery smile, his unending willingness to serve and his equally unending hours of labor, is vanishing rapidly. As a result the rural districts of Kansas and every other state in the Union today are served by fewer doctors than they were 20 years ago, the Kansas City Star avers.

This is the information just received from the general education board of New York. The report shows that in 1906 there was one doctor to every 892 persons who lived on the farms or in small towns under 1,000 population of Kansas. Today each country doctor must serve an average clientele of 1,288 persons.

AMUSEMENTS

"Sinners in Silk" Hobart Henley's first production for Metro-Goldwyn, opened for a two days' engagement at the Met theater last night. This picture, the newest of the jazz series, is new in more ways than one. It offers a highly original idea in that the central character, an elderly man in none too good health, is brought once again to youthful strength and youthful emotions when he takes the Steinhach rejuvenation treatment. With this as a premise, it was natural that Mr. Henley was able to develop a number of highly amusing and thrilling situations, which he did with the fullest degree.

Adolphe Menjou's Best.
Adolphe Menjou, who has become known for his roles of suavity and cynical humor, plays the part of the old young man. It is undoubtedly his best work yet on the screen. Time and time again last night's audience roared with glee when this thrilling actor brought home a clever point by a mere gesture or facial grimace.

Eleanor Boardman, star of "Sculls for Sale" and other late pictures, was the girl in the case—a typical flapper of the present day. She was never more charming than in the scene where she was overcome by the cleverness of Menjou's sleek wooing.

Conrad Nagel, who recently played the role of Angel Clare in "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" has an entirely different sort of part in "Sinners in Silk." He is the youth who loves the flirtatious Eleanor, and finally wins out over the older man. The cast includes Hedda Hopper, Jean Harlow, Edward Connelly and John Patrick.

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From the Wires by Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

(United Press.)

Columbus, May 6—Attorney General Crabbe today filed a demurrer in common pleas court here to the injunction suit aimed at collection of the gasoline tax.

Crabbe claims the state Automobile association, whose officers filed the injunction suit, has no cause for action and that the court has no authority to grant an injunction against the state tax commission.

Marion, O., May 6—At the age of 81, Dr. George T. Harding, father of the late president, today abandoned the one horse shay he has driven for 50 years and bought a flivver.

Dolly, his faithful horse, will be sent to the country to "live on the fat of the land for the rest of her days," the aged physician said.

Wooster, Ohio, May 7—Mrs. Blanche Tobias confessed slayer of her two weeks old baby because her husband denied he was the child's father, was committed to the State hospital for the feeble minded at Columbus by Judge Charles C. Jones here. This action followed the testimony of several psychiatrists concerning the young mother's mental condition.

KEEPING WELL

CAUSES OF MENTAL BREAKDOWN

DR. FREDERICK R. GREEN
Editor of "HEALTH"

THANKS to numerous newspaper and magazine articles, health talks, and instruction in the public schools, it is now more generally recognized than ever before that the human body is a machine which must be wisely treated and well taken care of if it is to do good work. But the mind is still regarded by most people as something strangely mysterious and beyond understanding.

In the romantic novels which our grandmothers read, the heroine was always supposed to have "brain fever," whatever that was, after the shock of desertion of her lover, abandonment by her husband, or whatever other trials the author subjected her to. The idea still prevails that mental conditions are due largely, if not entirely, to love, grief, separation or other purely emotional states.

As a matter of fact, the workings of the brain are influenced by the same conditions as those affecting other structures of the body. Poisoning, either from within or without the body, and insufficient or improper nourishment are responsible for most cases of mental breakdown, just as they are responsible for most serious affections of the heart, the kidneys or the stomach.

A careful study of 210 patients in a hospital for mental cases showed that 35, or 16 per cent, of the cases were due to direct infections of the brain, causing some form of meningitis. These infections came through the mouth, the nose, or the ear, and were preceded, of course, by infection of some part of the body. In 7½ per cent, the mental disorders were due to infections in more distant structures, such as the teeth, the tonsils, the gall bladder, or the appendix. In these cases, the infection was carried to the brain not directly but by the blood current. Ten per cent of the cases were due to the use of alcohol or some other drug. Twenty-six per cent were due to some defect in the constitutional make-up, that is, to some deficiency at birth of the brain or some other part of the body. Five per cent were due to old age, softening of the brain, etc.; 37 per cent to gland deficiency, such as defects of the thyroid gland in cretinism; 10 per cent to defective food, prolonged physical work, either in the hot sunshine or under abnormal heat conditions, to childbirth, and similar conditions. Only 15 cases, or about 7 per cent, were due to mental shocks, unbearable situations, excessive emotions, or great sorrow.

The normal human being is so constituted, mentally and physically, that he does not give way under mental strain or natural emotion. We all of us have our trials. If we were not able to stand them, most of the human race would be insane.

IN MEMORIAM

Editor Union-Herald:—John F. Diehl, son of Theobald and Catherine Diehl, born in Perry county, Ohio, October 25, 1844, died in Chillicothe, Ohio, April 15, 1925, aged 80 years, five months and 21 days. He leaves to mourn their loss, a companion, nine children, 5 sons, four daughters, 51 grandchildren, five great-grandchildren, one brother, besides many more distant relatives and friends. Names and addresses as follows: William, of Johnstown, Ohio; Cromwell, of Magnetic Springs; Jesse of Tucson; Daniel of Eagle Mills; Jacob of Chillicothe; Mrs. Gilbert Smith, of Columbus; Mrs. Charles Speakman of East Palestine; Mrs. Albert Parks of Circleville; Mrs. John Frances, of Lockbourne; and a brother, Michael, of Montana.

John F. Diehl was a member of Co. I, 19th regiment, Ohio volunteer Infantry, in the Civil war. The last 45 years he lived the life of a Christian. He was a kind husband and a loving father, a kind obliging neighbor, honest and upright in all his dealings.

We submit all to the will of Him who doeth all things well, and hope our loss is his everlasting gain. The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away. Blessed be the name of the Lord.

MUCH DIFFERENCE IN MORAL ATTITUDE

French and English Do Not See Eye to Eye.

The English language and the Anglo-Saxon temper distinguish sharply between manners and morals. Manners are desirable things, excellent things; they should be taught early and constantly maintained; but they are superficial, secondary; and the possessor of commendable morals may be sometimes excused if his manners are inadequate. Indeed, there is often a feeling that manners are not only superficial, but artificial; that an excess of them indicates insincerity and hypocrisy; and that a finely finished bearing suggests an insufficient moral basis, says a writer in the Youth's Companion.

The French attitude is quite different. In fact, the French have the same word for manners and for morals, and there is, if not a confusion, at least a constant interplay between the two. In French a moralist is not a person who passionately preaches improvement of the spiritual nature, but a student of human life and character and motive. Indeed, the identity of thought goes back beyond the French language to the Latin, in which the word mores, the direct original of our morals, means primarily manners and customs.

The Anglo-Saxon is naturally scornful of the Latin attitude, assuming that it implies mistaking mere courtesy for solid virtue. At the same time it is by no means certain that there is not a deeper truth in the French view of the matter. Morals deal with our relations to others. Matthew Arnold said that conduct was three-fourths of human life. Arnold's mathematics may be disputable, but at any rate conduct is a very great part of life and conduct is morals and morals is that part of life which is concerned with our dealings with other lives. Now, if we reflect a moment, we shall see that all that is really beautiful and valuable in manners is also a matter of our relations to others. True politeness, true courtesy, are not based on display or effect, but wholly on kindness; on a quick and sure apprehension of what will help others, will soothe them, will make them feel at their ease. The essence of all good manners is to cultivate and to strengthen the habit and the power of putting yourself in another's place. - And thus manners and morals are not so far apart after all.

Human Brain Cells
It has been estimated that the cortex alone contains 9,200,000,000 cell bodies and that the entire nervous system must contain at least 13,000,000,000 cells. It is generally agreed that in the human being the number is not increased after the third month of fetal life.

Worthy of Immortality
Nothing is known of the author of the first published dictionary of the English language, except that his first name was Henry Cockeram. His "English Dictionary" first appeared in 1620, and by 1670 had twelve editions.

"S. O. S."
S. O. S. is a code signal only, and not an abbreviation. Officially there is no phrase as "save our ship" or "suspend other service" for which the letters stand. They were adopted as the universal distress signal by the international radio telegraphic convention of 1912. The signal is transmitted as three dots, three dashes and three dots, and was chosen because it is easily sent and easily distinguished.

this oven works like a double boiler

You've used double boilers, of course, and know how safely cereals and other delicate foods can be cooked in them. The famous Fresh Air Oven of the Estate Gas Range is built exactly like a double boiler, and distributes heat in the same way. No more "humps"—no more scorching—instead, pies and cakes and cookies that melt in the mouth. It's different—this Estate oven—but it's founded on a principle as old as the double boiler. Let us show you how it works—today.

CROSS-WORD PUZZLE No. 66

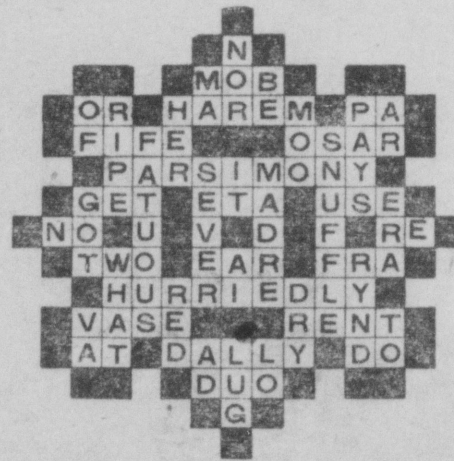

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE
When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

Had the Right Initial
An auditor, examining the rate-books in a rural district, not far from London, was puzzled to find the letter "H" against several names where the place of residence should be indicated. Upon being asked to explain, the assistant overseer said: "Oh, well, as a matter of fact, these particular people are dead, but not knowing for certain, I felt unable to give more than the initial letter of their present abode."

Gigantic Power Project
The island of Sicily is to be provided with electric power from Italy, which will embrace the erection of one of the most wonderful transmission wires in the world. Bids have been received from an American company for the construction of two steel towers, higher than the famous Eiffel tower in Paris, which will carry the transmission cables across the Straits of Messina. The height of the towers will be approximately 1,082 feet, and the distance between them will be two miles. There will be two circuits of three cables each, running 30 feet apart. The cables will be of steel, about four-fifths of an inch in diameter, and will clear the water in the center of the straits at a minimum height of 230 feet. At one terminus the cables will have automatic movable attachments to allow for changes in temperature and for wind pressure. —Family Herald.

TELLS OF WHIPPING IDOL OF PRIZE RING

Principal Got More Than Decision Over John "L."

At the end of the school term, in June, 1870, the school authorities informed Sullivan senior, father of John L. Sullivan, that, incredible as it might seem, they would struggle along thereafter without the presence of his son on the roster.

"Jawn," said his mother, grimly, "ye are too young to go to Boston college, where the brothers will mend yer manners. But meantime ye shall go to the Dwight Grammar school in Springfield street, where Professor Page will cure ye iv yer indacent misbehavior-r-r."

Prof. James A. Page was the first man to whip John L. Sullivan! To the end of his long and useful life—he died in 1917, at the age of ninety-two—Professor Page liked to tell of the few incidents he remembered in connection with his famous pupil. He sent the new student to his room and told his teacher to fasten a wary eye on him. The first thing she saw, an hour later, was a note being passed from desk to desk. She captured it and read:

"My name is John L. Sullivan. I whipped every boy at the Concord primary, and I can whip every kid in this room. I'm going to do it, too. Read this and pass it on."

In less than a month young Sullivan had made good. His recesses consisted of one combat after another. His progress after school was a series of fights that strung out for the full half-mile home. He even went to his classes a half-hour before the bell rang, charming his mother by such industry. Alas! it was only to have more time to hunt boys he had not yet whipped!

Professor Page recalled that his reports showed John was fairly interested in arithmetic and English, soon losing the brogue he was saturated with at home, but was hopeless in geography.

One day, in answer to a question as to their whereabouts, he told his teacher that the Rocky mountains were in Maine. A shout of derision followed, and John punched the nearest boy on the nose. Into the free-for-all that followed the teacher plunged, emerging with a firm clutch on Sullivan's collar. She sent him to the principal with a note. Page returned with him, and in front of the pupils gave the future champion a sound beating with a two-foot ruler.—Joe Dorney and Sid Sutherland in Liberty.

Waiters Lose "Perks"
It is not necessary to preach economy in England, where taxes are at a maximum. One after another old wasteful customs—some of which have helped provide a living for the needy—are disappearing under the watchful eye of the efficiency expert. Among these are the "perks" (perquisites) of the porters and waiters in hotels. It used to be a porter's "perk" to collect all the old newspapers left lying around by guests and sell them for what they would bring. Those days are gone. Old papers, in most London hotels, must now be handed over to the management and kept for sale in bulk for the benefit of the house. It is the same way with corks—a waiter's "perk." These have become too valuable to be donated to employees. Ordinary corks sell for as much as 3 pence (6 cents) apiece; champagne corks bringing as high as 8 pence.

The Correspondent
John McCormack, the famous singer, receives a great many letters from aspirants to musical fame.
At a dinner in New York Mr. McCormack read a letter that had been sent to him under the erroneous impression that he taught voice production. The letter, dated from the Middle West, ran:
"Friend John—Please let me know your lowest rates for full correspondence course in voice production. I have no voice, but as the efficiency engineer business is not what it was represented to me by the International Efficiency School of Correspondence, I desire to abandon same in favor of grand opera, and if you can produce me a fine tenor voice I will be glad to pay, in addition to regular charges, a cash bonus and a generous percentage of salary receipts for a term of years. Answer by return."

It Comes High
Percival S. Hill, the tobacco magnate, subscribed for $10,000,000 of the German loan. Of course, he would not have done this if he had not been thoroughly conversant with European affairs. At a luncheon in New York the other day he was talking about David Lloyd George, once the most prominent and popular man in the world, now a negligible member of a negligible party.
"Envy wiped Lloyd George out," he said. "His case is like that of the pretty girl."
"What makes Phoebe so disliked?" one young matron asked another.
"Why, didn't you hear," said the other young matron. Phoebe got the most votes at the church social for being the most popular girl."

Develop Ability
Too many people magnify their tasks—look at them in such way that they appear larger than they really are. Such people should magnify their ability—not overestimate it, but develop it. Doing so, tasks would appear less difficult.—Grit.
